Revolution Forward Leonardo Campana Called Up to Ecuador National Team

Ecuador has already clinched its spot in next summer's FIFA World Cup 2026

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. (August 30, 2025) – New England Revolution forward Leonardo Campana has been called up by the Ecuador Men's National Team for a pair of FIFA World Cup Qualifying matches. Campana will depart for international duty following tonight's home match against Charlotte FC at Gillette Stadium (7:30 p.m. ET).

Campana and the Ecuador Men's National Team have already clinched their qualification for FIFA World Cup 2026, securing their berth earlier this year during the June international window. La Tricolor currently sits in second place in the CONMEBOL World Cup Qualifying table with a 7-2-7 record. Ecuador will visit Paraguay on Thursday, Sept. 4 (7:30 p.m. ET), before hosting FIFA World Cup 2022 winner Argentina on Tuesday, Sept. 9 (7:00 p.m. ET).

Campana has made 16 appearances for his native Ecuador, including five starts. The 25-year-old striker most recently saw minutes off the bench in a World Cup Qualifying match against Paraguay on October 10, 2024. A native of Guayaquil, Campana also appeared in four matches during the 2021 Copa America campaign with Ecuador.

In his first season with New England, Campana has logged six goals in 20 appearances, with 16 starts. Campana, who has netted two game-winning goals this season, enters Saturday's match against Charlotte FC with four goals scored over the last six matches. Last Saturday, Campana marked his 100th MLS regular season appearance with the game's opening goal against Columbus, helping lift New England to a 2-1 victory on the road.

Campana and the Revolution, winners of two out of their last three matches, are at home tonight to face Charlotte FC at Gillette Stadium. About the New England Revolution

The New England Revolution, owned and operated by the Kraft family, began play in 1996 as one of the original founding clubs of Major League Soccer (MLS). Currently in the team's 30th season, the Revolution are five-time MLS Eastern Conference champions and claimed the 2021 Supporters' Shield after a record-setting campaign. The Revolution also won the 2008 North American SuperLiga and 2007 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles. The Revolution play their home matches at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough, Mass. and are currently coached by two-time MLS Cup winner Caleb Porter. The club and its acclaimed pro pathway, including Revolution II (MLS NEXT Pro) and the Revolution Academy, are headquartered at the Revolution Training Center, which opened ahead of the 2020 season.
