Miller and the U.S. U-20 team will face New Caledonia, France, and South Africa in Group E action, with all three matches at Estadio El Teniente in Rancagua. The homegrown defender recently joined the U.S. U-20 roster in June for a training camp and friendly matches in Egypt as the youngest member on Head Coach Marko Mitrović's 22-player squad. Miller was one of 14 U.S.-based players to take part in the June training camp. The Unionville, Conn. native came off the bench in a 1-0 defeat to the Norway U-20 side on June 6, before starting against Colombia U-20s on June 10.

Miller has suited up on six occasions for the U.S. U-20 side, tallying one goal in a friendly against the South Korea U-20s in November 2024. The defender also earned three appearances for the U.S U-16 team along with seven caps with the U.S. U-17 squad. Miller was part of the United States' roster at the 2023 FIFA U-17 World Cup in Indonesia, appearing in all four matches during tournament play with a pair of starts at left wing to help the U.S. reach the Round of 16.

Currently in his second MLS campaign, Miller has started 24 of his 25 appearances in MLS this season, collecting two goals and two assists. The left back notched his second goal of the campaign on September 6 at Chicago Fire FC. Miller is closing in on 3,000 minutes across all competitions in his Revolution career. In his debut campaign in 2024, Miller notched 10 appearances and became the eighth-youngest player in MLS history to record an assist (16 years, 315 days).

Miller and the Revolution are back on the road this weekend to face the Philadelphia Union at Subaru Park. About the New England Revolution

The New England Revolution, owned and operated by the Kraft family, began play in 1996 as one of the original founding clubs of Major League Soccer (MLS). Currently in the team's 30th season, the Revolution are five-time MLS Eastern Conference champions and claimed the 2021 Supporters' Shield after a record-setting campaign. The Revolution also won the 2008 North American SuperLiga and 2007 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles. The Revolution play their home matches at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough, Mass. The club and its acclaimed pro pathway, including Revolution II (MLS NEXT Pro) and the Revolution Academy, are headquartered at the Revolution Training Center, which opened ahead of the 2020 season.
