Revolution Defender Mamadou Fofana Called Up to Mali National Team

Fofana and 'Les Aigles' take on Jordan in November international friendly

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. (November 7, 2025) – New England Revolution defender Mamadou Fofana has been called up by the Mali Men's National Team for an international friendly match against Jordan at Amman International Stadium on Tuesday, Nov. 18 (1:30 p.m. ET).

Fofana owns 48 appearances, including 43 matches started, with one goal scored for his native Mali. The 27-year-old most recently suited up for a pair of FIFA World Cup Qualifying matches in October, registering consecutive 90-minute performances in a 2-0 shutout win over Chad and a 4-1 victory over Madagascar. Fofana also logged two starts for Mali during FIFA World Cup Qualifying Matches in September.

In his debut campaign with New England, Fofana started all 30 of his games played. The central defender featured in the starting lineup for all 10 of the Revolution's shutouts in 2025, marking the fifth time in club history that New England recorded 10-or-more clean sheets in a single season.

About the New England Revolution

The New England Revolution, owned and operated by the Kraft family, began play in 1996 as one of the original founding clubs of Major League Soccer (MLS). Currently in the team's 30th season, the Revolution are five-time MLS Eastern Conference champions and claimed the 2021 Supporters' Shield after a record-setting campaign. The Revolution also won the 2008 North American SuperLiga and 2007 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles. The Revolution play their home matches at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough, Mass. The club and its acclaimed pro pathway, including Revolution II (MLS NEXT Pro) and the Revolution Academy, are headquartered at the Revolution Training Center, which opened ahead of the 2020 season.
