New England generated its first look on frame in the 30th minute when defender Ethan Kohler rose up to meet a corner kick from midfielder Carles Gil, but his headed effort was denied by Nashville goalkeeper Brian Schwake. Nashville broke through moments later as Cristian Espinoza created space down the right side and centered a pass for Bryan Acosta, who slotted a low, driven shot into the bottom-left corner in the 34th minute.

The visitors doubled their lead in the 41st minute after a giveaway from New England goalkeeper Matt Turner fell kindly to the feet of Warren Madrigal, who slotted home his finish to put Nashville ahead 2-0 at the break. In the second half, Nashville extended its lead with Acosta and Espinoza connecting again in the 74th minute.

Revolution Head Coach Marko Mitrović turned to the bench to deploy several second-half substitutes, including midfielder Jackson Yueill, who provided the Revolution's final chance of the night in the 87th minute. The midfielder drove centrally towards goal and lined up a shot, but his left-footed finish was saved by Schwake.

Forward Marcos Zambrano was one of the late reinforcements, making his MLS debut with a 12-minute shift off the bench. Zambrano was one of six U.S. youth internationals to appear in tonight's contest, alongside Kohler, Griffin Yow, Brooklyn Raines, Peyton Miller, and Eric Klein. Miller, an 18-year-old Homegrown defender, logged one key pass in his 50th Revolution appearance across all competitions. Veteran midfielder Matt Polster, in his first start back from injury and 250th MLS career appearance, matched Kohler with a team-leading two shot attempts tonight.

New England closes its four-game homestand with its final match in Foxborough before the FIFA 2026 World Cup, hosting Minnesota United FC on Saturday, May 16 at Gillette Stadium. The 7:30 p.m. ET kickoff airs on Apple TV in English and Spanish. Listen to the local radio call on 98.5 The Sports Hub (WBZ-FM), Rumba 97.7 FM (Spanish), or 1260 AM Nossa Radio USA (Portuguese).
