ORLANDO GAME NOTES

PREVIEW SOUND (9/17): Marko Mitrović and M Carles Gil

New England returns home this weekend in strong form after claiming three wins during a four-game road swing, including back-to-back victories entering Saturday's contest. Under first-year Head Coach Marko Mitrović, the Revolution have emerged as one of MLS's most dominant home sides, with their 8-2-2 record and 2.17 points per game ranking tied for fourth best in the league. Additionally, the Revolution's plus-11 goal differential at home ranks among league leaders (6th). Most recently, New England captured a 2-1 victory at Chicago Fire FC last Sunday. Striker Dor Turgeman headlined the attack with a goal-and-assist performance, earning a selection to the MLS Team of the Matchday alongside Mitrović. The Israeli international has tallied four goal contributions (3g, 1a) in the last five matches and owns an MLS career-high seven goals and five assists in 2026. New England boasts an unbeaten 7-0-2 mark when Turgeman finds the scoresheet this season, including a 5-0-0 record when he records an assist.

Homegrown Player Peyton Miller continues to shine in the attack, scoring the game-winning goal in Sunday's victory, his fifth goal of the campaign. The 18-year-old Connecticut native also became the fourth player in MLS history to start 50 matches before the age of 19 last weekend. On Thursday, Miller was named to Mauricio Pochettino's U.S. Men's National Team roster for the upcoming FIFA international window, his first senior call-up having previously represented the Stars and Stripes at various youth levels.

Miller will be joined on international duty by midfielder Brooklyn Raines, who also earned his first senior USMNT selection. Raines has been a mainstay in New England's midfield this season, starting all 23 of his league appearances, and marked his 50th MLS career start last Sunday. Fellow midfielder Jackson Yueill eyes a third straight start in the center of the park this weekend, after setting up Miller's game-winning goal against Chicago.

New England newcomer Dániel Gazdag is poised to make his 150th MLS start, following his first feature in the Revolution's Starting XI. The Hungarian looks to continue a strong track record against Orlando, having produced four goals and three assists in 11 career meetings with the Lions. Revolution captain Carles Gil has also enjoyed success against Orlando in his MLS career, with six goals and seven assists in 11 appearances, tied for his third-most assists against any MLS opponent. The Spaniard embarks on the weekend contest with a league-leading 69 chances created on the year.

The Revolution seek their first victory over Orlando City SC since 2023, a side that is unbeaten in their last five matches, including three consecutive victories. Red-hot Antoine Griezmann has impressed for The Lions since joining the club from Atlético Madrid this summer, with eight goals and three assists in the last 10 games, though his status could be in jeopardy after he exited Orlando's midweek game with an apparent injury. Forward Justin Ellis, who was also named to Pochettino's USMNT roster this week, has dished out an assist in each of the last four matches and owns 10 helpers in the 2026 campaign.

Noche Latina e Hispana:

Saturday's match marks the Revolution's annual Noche Latina e Hispana at Gillette Stadium, featuring a full slate of cultural activities beginning at 5:00 p.m. in the Revolution Fan Zone, including a live band performance from El Grupo Chevere. Fans can explore several informational booths throughout the concourse, with participation from local groups and consulates including ROCA, NEACOL, La Alianza Hispana, and the club's official Spanish radio partner, Rumba 97.7 FM, among others.

A special Noche Latina e Hispana scarf will be available for purchase at the Pro Shop and in-stadium on Saturday, and all fans entering Gillette Stadium will receive a commemorative poster designed by Mikey Guardarrama, who will be on site for a meet-and-greet. Yelena Rodriguez will perform the national anthem, while Dance Realm, a Latino dance group from East Boston, will headline the evening with a halftime performance on the field. Fans can also stop by The Commons in the South Endzone for an exclusive match-day offering: a Smoked Brisket Picadillo Empanada.

Amputee Soccer Exhibition Match:

Following the final whistle of Saturday's MLS match between the Revolution and Orlando City SC, the New England Amputee Soccer Association will host its third full-length exhibition match at Gillette Stadium, where they will take on the American Amputee Soccer Association All-Star Team. The Revolution have been a longstanding supporter of amputee soccer in New England, including past donations of team uniforms, training field time, and durable high-performance crutches designed for use in competition.

The New England Revolution Amputee Soccer Team is captained by Nico Calabria, with Revolution defender Will Sands serving as the club ambassador. In August 2026, New England claimed its second U.S. Amputee Soccer Cup, going an unbeaten 4-0-0 without allowing a goal in tournament play. Calabria was awarded Tournament MVP and Musabwa Nzirimwo finished as the tournament's top goal scorer.
