2028 Olympic Cycle Continues as U-21s Will Play Against Japan and Korea Republic

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. (March 20, 2026) – New England Revolution midfielder Brooklyn Raines and defender Ethan Kohler have been called up to the United States Under-21 National Team for a March training camp in Cheonan, South Korea. During the camp, the U.S. U-21 side will play matches against the Japan U-21 team on Friday, March 27 (2:00 a.m. ET) and the Korea Republic U-23 squad on Tuesday, March 31 (6:00 a.m. ET).

Raines, 21, saw action for the U.S. U-21 squad in November, donning the captain's armband in a pair of friendlies against Serbia and Denmark. The midfielder previously earned 18 caps at the U-20 level, including appearances at the 2024 Concacaf U-20 Championship and the 2025 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Chile last fall. In U-20 World Cup action, Raines tallied one goal and one assist, scoring in a 3-0 win over France.

This season, Raines has started each of the first three matches for New England after joining the club in an offseason trade with Houston Dynamo FC. Currently in his fifth MLS campaign, Raines owns 48 career regular season appearances, including 30 starts, along with a pair of additional appearances in the MLS Cup Playoffs. In 2025, Raines was named a finalist for 2025 U.S. Soccer Young Male Player of the Year and made the MLS 22 Under 22 list.

Kohler, 20, also earned a November call-up to the U.S. U-21 side, starting and playing 90 minutes in both friendly matches. The Campbell, Calif. native owns 14 caps for the U.S. U-20 squad, including four starts during last year's FIFA U-20 World Cup. Kohler tallied his first international goal at the 2024 Concacaf U-20 Championship in a 4-0 victory over Cuba.

The defender has appeared in two matches for New England this season. Kohler, who also joined the Revolution during the offseason, is in his first MLS campaign after transferring from German side Werder Bremen in December. Outside MLS, Kohler owns 72 appearances in his professional career across clubs in the United States and Germany, tallying three goals and five assists.

The Revolution visit St. Louis CITY SC on Saturday, March 21 at Energizer Park. The 8:30 p.m. ET kickoff airs live on Apple TV in both English and Spanish. Listen to the local radio calls on 98.5 The Sports Hub (WBZ-FM) and 1260 AM Nossa Radio USA (Portuguese).

About the New England Revolution

The New England Revolution, owned and operated by the Kraft family, began play in 1996 as one of the original founding clubs of Major League Soccer (MLS). Through 30 MLS seasons, the Revolution are five-time MLS Eastern Conference champions and claimed the 2021 Supporters' Shield after a record-setting campaign. New England also won the 2008 North American SuperLiga and 2007 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles. The Revolution play their home matches at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough, Mass. The club and its acclaimed pro pathway, including Revolution II (MLS NEXT Pro) and the Revolution Academy, are headquartered at the Revolution Training Center, which opened ahead of the 2020 season.
