New England started the day on the front foot, finding the opening goal in the 38th minute through Morgan. The Canada native connected with Homegrown defender Damario McIntosh on a give-and-go inside the box, before cutting across the defender and slotting a left-footed finish past a diving Red Bull II goalkeeper Austin Causey. Morgan netted his team-best fifth goal of the season and his second in the last three games, while McIntosh recorded his third assist of the campaign.

Revolution II doubled their lead in first-half stoppage time, with Mussenden opening his 2026 account. After a deflection off a New York defender fell kindly to the feet of Mussenden, the Academy graduated calmly delivered a left-footed strike past Causey, who came running off his line. New England ended the first half with a 2-0 lead over New York, and outshot the visitors 4-1 in the opening 45 minutes, with all four shots on target.

New York pulled one back in the 64th minute through Christian Gallagher. The visitors nearly equalized in the 80th minute, as Deven Cadigan blasted a shot on net, but goalkeeper Max Weinstein made a diving save to parry it away. In the final moments of the match, the Academy graduate came up big again, sticking out a kick save to deny the visitors in stoppage time. Weinstein, a Vermont native, finished the day with a pair of stops in his second straight start between the posts.

Morgan paced New England's attack in today's win with three shot attempts, two on target. Also in the offense, Venezuelan midfielder Carlos Zambrano recorded a team-best two key passes on the day. Fellow midfielder Joe Buck, an Arlington, Mass. native, entered the match as a second-half substitute to mark his 2026 season debut in his return from injury.

New England resumes its two-match homestand on Sunday, June 21, hosting Chicago Fire FC II at Bryant University's Beirne Stadium. The 7:00 p.m. ET kickoff will be available to stream live on MLSNEXTPro.com and the OneFootball platform.
