PRESS RELEASE

Revolution Players in Action during International Window

Miller and Raines debuted for USMNT, Turgeman starts for Israel, and academy products participate in U.S. youth national team camps

While the Revolution have the week off from MLS action, several New England Revolution players will be performing on the global stage with their national teams. Here is a summary of the international window thus far, including two notable U.S. Men's National Team debuts, and the upcoming international matches where Revolution players will be in action.

U.S. Men's National Team: Peyton Miller and Brooklyn Raines

Already this window, defender/winger Peyton Miller and midfielder Brooklyn Raines both made their senior debuts for the U.S. Men's National Team in a 4-1 win over Peru on Saturday. Head Coach Mauricio Pochettino tabbed Miller for the start at left back, submitting a 61-minute shift, while Raines earned his first cap as a 77th-minute substitute. The Stars and Stripes will be back in action on Tuesday, Sept. 29 vs. Chile (8:00 p.m. ET), followed by meetings with Mexico on Oct. 3 (9:00 p.m. ET) and Canada on Oct. 6 (8:00 p.m. ET).

Israel Men's National Team: Dor Turgeman and Ilay Feingold

Forward Dor Turgeman has appeared in both of Israel's matches to open UEFA Nations League B group play, including a start against Ireland on Sept. 27. The 22-year-old striker now has 20 caps in his international career, including two goals in seven FIFA World Cup qualifiers. Defender Ilay Feingold has been available on the bench for both matches and made a brief substitute appearance against Ireland for his third senior cap. Israel plays two more matches this window beginning with an Oct. 1 match against Kosovo (2:45 p.m. ET), followed by an Oct. 4 meeting with Ireland (2:45 p.m. ET).

U.S. Under-19 Men's National Team

Two local Revolution Academy graduates and Revolution II standouts are in U.S. Youth National Team camps this week. Midfielder Cristiano Oliveira, an 18-year-old from Somerville, Mass., was called in by the U.S. Under-19s for matches against Wales on Tuesday, Sept. 29, England on Oct. 2, and Norway on Oct. 5. Oliveira is looking to make his first appearance at the U-19 level after previously featuring for the U.S. U-18s, U-17s, U-16s, and U-15s. The Homegrown Player started in two international friendlies against Portugal and Morocco for the Under-18s in March. Oliveira also competed in the 2025 CONCACAF U-17 Championship, making three appearances, including one start, and tallying a goal in a 7-0 win over St. Kitts & Nevis.

U.S. Under-17 Men's National Team

With the U.S. U-17s, midfielder Judah Siqueira received his first international call-up for the team's final training camp before the 2026 FIFA U-17 World Cup in Qatar. The 24-player squad, all born in 2009, will play three matches this window starting on Wednesday, Sept. 30 vs. Ireland. The U-17s will then face Norway on Oct. 3 and Netherlands on Oct. 6. The Homegrown Player from Easton, Mass. made his MLS debut on August 19 at D.C. United, his first of two appearances with the first team, in addition to 24 games played in MLS NEXT Pro with Revolution II.

Next MLS Match

After a few days off to recharge, the Revolution will be back on the training ground Thursday to begin preparations for next Saturday's home match against Seattle Sounders FC on Oct. 10. The 7:30 p.m. ET start at Gillette Stadium will be the club's first ever "Marvel Night". New England currently sits second in the Eastern Conference and fourth in the overall Supporters' Shield standings with seven games left to play in the 2026 MLS Regular Season.

About the New England Revolution

The New England Revolution, owned and operated by the Kraft family, began play in 1996 as one of the original founding clubs of Major League Soccer (MLS). Through 30 MLS seasons, the Revolution are five-time MLS Eastern Conference champions and claimed the 2021 Supporters' Shield after a record-setting campaign. New England also won the 2008 North American SuperLiga and 2007 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup titles. The Revolution play their home matches at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough, Mass. The club and its acclaimed pro pathway, including Revolution II (MLS NEXT Pro) and the Revolution Academy, are headquartered at the Revolution Training Center, which opened ahead of the 2020 season.
